

ABSTRACT

This novel is a mix of science fiction and psychological games with a kind of love story inside.

The action has place somewhere in future, in the years 2040. After an event of catastrophic proportions took place on Earth ("Big Change"), the humanity underwent radical transformations. Following this event, many people did not survive and those who remained live with the fear that the human race would be on the way to extinction. In all the world there are some radical groups which fight against the government. The artificial intelligence is present anywhere on the world, and the government tries to control the humans by any possible means.

On the background of these events, the novel describes the love story between the main characters, a young Spanish woman, Teresa and an Indian man, Prashant.

Teresa is an open-minded young woman who doesn't care about all the cultural and religious differences between them, and she is able to fight for this love. She is fearless, a strong personality and she is ready to do everything to destroy the government and to free the humanity from its oppression.

Prashant is more reserved, and he can seem distant and cruel at the beginning, but the warm heart of Teresa changes him day by day. He supports her every day in his own way and takes care to not happen anything bad to her.

They don't know each other from the beginning but in the last chapters they will meet for the first time. Their face-to-face date will be a memorable one.

The pages of this novel are full of suspense, action, psychological games and describe in deep details all the unexpressed feelings of both characters.
